LAUNCH CATSKILL AT ISLAND DOCK ON THURSDAY NEXT

Mrs. Connors To Christen Second Ship Built Here—Third Vessel Ready In Three Weeks—Work on Fourth Abandoned—140 Men Working.

The steamship Catskill, the second ocean freighter to be built at the Island Dock shipyard of the Kingston Shipbuilding Corporation, will be launched Thursday afternoon, May 23, at 1 o'clock, weather conditions permitting. Mrs. Connors, wife of Arthur Connors, one of the owners of the shipyard, will be sponsor for the big ship. The first ship built and launched was the Esopus.

Work on the third ship is progressing rapidly. The Esopus and the Catskill are what are known as the Ferris type of ship, but the third ship under construction will not be a Ferris ship, and none of the upper work or superstructure will be built. The corporation has received instructions to simply put a deck on the ship, seal the craft up inside, which has been done, and plank the hull on the outside which is being done. In other words the ship is to be protected from the weather and in condition to be towed to its destination. She will lack 40 per cent of the labor which was done on the Catskill. What work remains to be done on her here will be completed in three weeks when she will be launched.

There have been a number of rumors circulated as to what would be done with the fourth ship. One was to the effect that she was to be turned into a coal boat, and another that she would be used for a schooner. One of the officials of the corporation stated this morning that work on the fourth ship has been definitely abandoned.

At the present time there are about one hundred and forty men employed on the Island Dock yard, and the company has a number of applications from men for work on file at the office.

RANTZAU AT SPA FOR CONFERENCE

Talks Over Allied Concessions With Government Leaders—Can Only Wait Says Wilson.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Paris, May 23.—"It is only possible to wait the developments," declared President Wilson in commenting upon reports from German cabinet that the Teutonic envoys would not sign peace treaty. Other American sources were confident that the economic concessions and the modifications of the reparations clause were sufficient to insure the acceptance of the treaty at Berlin. The changes made in the terms are not basic, it was officially stated today. They were merely designed to make the imposition of reparations less onerous to the Germans.

Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace delegation, reached Spa today and immediately conferred with responsible members of the German government. The action taken was expected to determine the final attitude of Germany. It is now openly admitted that the only reason for withholding the complete terms as submitted to the Teutonic envoys was to secure the German viewpoint first.

CANADA WOULD ABOLISH TITLES

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Ottawa, Ont., May 23.—By a vote of 94 to 43, the House of Commons late last night decided to ask the king to refrain in the future from conferring living distinctions upon persons living in Canada. This means that titles shall not be permitted to take root on Canadian soil.

All knight-hoods, hereditary titles and such decorations as C. M. G. and C. B. will be abolished should the king grant the request of the Canadian commoners.

This abolition of titled aristocracy in Canada is one of the direct influences of the war and one of the most striking evidences of the leveling influences of democracy.

CANT EVADE THE TAX MAN

Court of Appeals Upholds Penalty On Estate Securities Not Already Taxed—Expect Much Revenue For State As Result.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Albany, May 23. (Special).—Owners and holders of investment securities and other forms intangible property like bonds, notes and other obligations excepting those protected by deeds of trust and mortgages on real property, will be interested in an important decision made Tuesday by the Court of Appeals. This highest state tribunal sustained the contention of Comptroller Travis, argued in the Watson case, that the 5 per cent imposed upon the transfer of such property belonging to an estate, not already taxed locally or exempted by paying the new permissive investment tax, is valid.

Few taxpayers are aware of this unusual form of taxation," explained the comptroller today in discussing the decision, which adds $1,700,000 to the state's revenue.

This measure is in the nature of an exemption fee for paying the state 20 cents on every $100 of the face value of these securities, the owner or holder escapes a larger tax at home, saving at least $2.00 on every $100 of the assessed valuation. The net result is a far higher rate than the state has secured for $5,000,000 additional income in a way which it would never have been paid by taxes anywhere else.

"This situation is due largely to the reason that local assessors seldom discovered this form of wealth, hence, this sort of a decoy for bringing it out of its hiding place in other words, by paying a very moderate fee to the state, the owner of bonds and notes may purchase exemption from local taxation for a period not to exceed five years. Many investors, however, have failed to take advantage because they think the local assessors will not discover their existence.

"Consequently, an additional tax of 5 per cent was imposed when the transfer took place, unless it was shown that the property was taxed locally or as an investment. This penalty, now upheld by the courts, will act as a powerful stimulus in increasing the revenues, although the new individual income tax provision may affect its administration. Such measure substitutes, in part, the investment tax by exempting money on hand, on deposit, or at interest, bonds, notes, choses in actions, shares of stock in corporations other than banks, owned by an individual or constituting a part of a trust or estate, after July 31, next."

For Rehearsal of Symphony Concert.—Miss Crespi's Selections Promise Pleasure For Music Lovers.

The interest in the coming Symphony Concert to be given at the High School on Monday evening next, seems to be very great all over the city. Among musicians there is a desire to know what the program will offer, on the part of the soloists as well as that of the orchestra, whose numbers were published in an earlier issue of the Freeman. Johan van Bonnel, the Hollander baritone soloist, will sing first the Toreador song from Carmen, and for his second number, the Prologue to Pagliacci, which means a treat for all lovers of music, far beyond the ordinary. In addition to the Mendelssohn Violin Concerto, to be played with the orchestra, Miss Crespi will play a group of solos, as follows:

a. Serenade—.....Chaminade-Kreisler.
b. Valse Bluettes—.....Bizet.
c. Goblins' Dance—.....Bassini.
It is always particularly gratifying to hear such a great artist as Miss Crespi, in both the larger concert work, and in the solo numbers. Consequently the soloists numbers will attract particular attention.

School Children Need No Tickets.

It has been found inadvisable to issue tickets for the school children, but all children in the public and parochial schools of the seventh and eighth grades, and all high school pupils, have been invited through Superintendent M. J. Michael, and their principals, and the masters of the parochial schools to attend the afternoon public rehearsal at the High School at 2:30 o'clock. Superintendent Michael has been asked by the managers of the Symphony Society to provide for it that children of the seventh and eighth grades, and at the High School, are not kept in after school on Monday afternoon so that they may attend the concert.

CEDAR RAPIDS VICTIMS FOUND

Score Of More Yet Missing In Starch Works Ruins—Property Damage Two Million Dollars—Ten Of 30 Injured Expected To Die.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Cedar Rapids, Iowa, May 23.—Firemen, police, soldiers and volunteer rescuers searching in the smoldering ruins of the Douglas starch works, the $3,000,000 plant wrecked last night by a "dry dust" explosion had recovered the bodies of seven employees at an early hour today.

It is said many of the score or more reported missing were caught in the ruins of the building and killed. Fifty persons were injured, of which it is said ten will die. Property loss at the plant is estimated at $1,500,000, while nearby buildings were damaged to the extent of $500,000. At the time of the explosion, just after the day shift had been relieved, 150 persons were in the building. Fire, which started almost immediately following the explosion, trapped many of these in the burning building, and it is believed that a check up is being completed of those known to have been in the building at the time of the explosion, the death list will be greatly increased.

CONDEMNS GERMAN MILLIONS TO DEATH SAYS RANTZAU

"A Rash Assertion," Clemenceau Says In Allied Answer To Protest of German Peace Mission at Economic Conditions Laid Down.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Paris, May 23.—Those, who will sign this treaty will sign the death sentence of many millions of German men, women and children, declared Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace delegation, in the formal protest to the Allies against the economic conditions of the peace treaty, which was requested in another communication, forwarded by the Allies last night. The text of both the German protests, which was quite lengthy, and the Allied reply, signed by Premier Clemenceau, president of the peace conference, were made public today.

Industrial Germany.

The German delegation's protest asserted that Germany had grown from an agricultural state to an industrial state, in which 15,000,000 persons made their living by foreign trade and navigation, or by using raw material from foreign countries. Under the terms of peace, it was asserted, Germany would lose in the east territory equivalent to the loss of 21 per cent of her total crop of corn and potatoes, she would lose three-quarters of her mineral production and three-fifths of her zinc production and in addition would be compelled to deliver enormous consignments of coal to Allied countries. After this diminution of her products, after the economic depression caused by the loss of her colonies, of her merchant fleet and of her possessions abroad, Germany would not be in a state to import from abroad a sufficient quantity of raw material. Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau stated, "An enormous part of German industry would, therefore, inevitably be condemned to destruction and at the end of a short time Germany would, therefore, not be in a position to give bread and work to her numerous millions of inhabitants, who would be reduced to earning their livelihood by trade. Those persons would have to emigrate but, that is a material impossibility because many countries and the most important ones will oppose any German immigration. Moreover, millions of Germans expelled from the territories of others now at war with Germany will return to their native land.

THE ALLIED REPLY

Paris, May 23.—"A rash assertion," was Premier Clemenceau's reply on behalf of the allies, to the declaration by Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace delegation, that the signing of the peace treaty means the death sentence of millions of German men, women and children. The text of the German protest on economic conditions in which Von Brockdorff-Rantzau's statement was made, and the allied answer, were made public today. Premier Clemenceau reminded the Germans that they might well bear larger loss of life as a result of the war, since they started it. He denied it, however, that the economic restrictions imposed on Germany would mean her death, pointing to Great Britain as a nation, which imports half her food supplies and most of her raw materials from abroad.

The allied reply further pointed out that no German territory had suffered either from devastation or pillage in the war and that Germany's resources, supplemented by the volume of import trade, are sufficient for her recovery and development.

GERMAN RESOURCES ADEQUATE.

Premier Clemenceau said the German note opened with the statement that the industrial resources of Germany were inadequate before the war for the nourishment of a population of 67,000,000 and it argues as though were the total for which, with diminished resources, she will still be called upon to provide. This is not the case. The total population of Germany would be reduced about 4,000,000 persons in the non-German territories, in which it is proposed to transfer. The needs of this smaller aggregation that we are called upon to consider. Complaint is made in the German note, that they are required to surrender her merchant tonnage and that a prior claim is made upon her shipbuilding capacity for a limited term of years. No mention is made of the fact that a considerable portion of the smaller tonnage of Germany is left to her unimpaired, and it seems to have entirely escaped the notice of her spokesmen, that the sacrifice of her large shipment is inevitable and that the penalty imposed on her is for the ruthless campaign waged.

Reply to the German assertion regarding diminution in crops, Premier Clemenceau pointed out that nothing will prevent Germany from growing corn and potatoes in other regions and from importing them.

The coal industry of France was obliterated with a calculation and savings, which it will take many years to repair. There can be no reason in equity, why Germany, who deliberately made herself responsible for the deficiency, should not, to the full limit of her capacity, make it good.

The allied and assembled powers cannot accept the speculative assertion mated presented to them in the German note in the future of Germany industry as a whole. Every country is called on to suffer. There is no reason why Germany, which was responsible for the war, should not suffer also.

A BOOMERANG

It is highly interesting to hear of approval of the peace terms in Spain and to find a prominent Spanish newspaper quoted as saying that it would be unjust to accuse the Allied and Associated Powers of imperialism after the ravages at the hands of the Germans suffered by France and Italy. This news will doubtless cause among Germans the regretful reflection that their propaganda in Spain was incautious if not overdone. During the war we heard of strong pro-German sentiment in Spain resulting from very active German propaganda, but it now comes to light that the German agents actually circulated accounts of the wanton and brutal devastations by the German armies in Belgium and France with a view to frighten and prevent Spain from making common cause with the Allies.

German "frightfulness" had the opposite of the intended effect, stiffening the backs of instead of terrorizing Germany's enemies and filling the void with loathing and indignation instead of fright. But the plan of the German propagandists in Spain succeeded in a way that was not foreseen. While some distant observers still doubted the stories of the most infamous atrocities, the Spaniards believed what they heard from the very mouths of the Germans themselves and now they think that the peace terms are none too hard to impose on a people confessedly guilty of such iniquities. The boomerang thrown by the Germans in Spain has returned to smite them.

THREE EPOCHAL EVENTS

May 17 witnessed the last of three epoch-making events. The first was the crossing of the Atlantic by Columbus with his little Spanish caravels in August-October, 1492. The second was the transatlantic voyage of the steam-propelled ship Savannah in May-June, 1819. The third was the air trip from Newfoundland to the Azores by the seaplane NC-1 in May, 1919. It is 427 years since Columbus took 70 days to sail from Spain to the Bahamas (including his stop to refit at the Canaries), the great pioneer navigator thus opening two continents and practically adding a new world to civilization. It is 100 years since the Savannah left the Georgia port from which she took her name and crossed the Atlantic in 22 days, the first ship to do so by steam power. This little 300-ton ship thus opened the way for the 70,000 horsepower ocean liners with a 15,000 ton displacement which in our time have made of the great Atlantic a narrow lake. And now an airship has crossed to the Azores in fifteen hours and at the same rate could have reached Lisbon in 24 hours. Seventy days by sail in 1492, 22 days by steam in 1819, and 24 hours by air flight in 1919! What further developments may we not see in the next half century. Columbus with his caravels averaged about a mile an hour; Captain Rogers with the Savannah about 5 to 10 miles an hour; and Commander Reed with the airship NC-4 fully 90 miles an hour. In view of such progress and achievement, surely it is not too much to expect that men now living will see the day when airships carrying both passengers and light freight will regularly cross the Atlantic in a single day of twenty-four hours.

EXODUS OF FOREIGN-BORN.

In the early days of the great war a flood of immigration from Europe on the return of peace was so confidently expected that "congress" was urged to consider plans for its restriction in advance. And now we are facing the exact contrary of the expected. There is practically no immigration from Europe, while the outflow of European aliens is great and unceasingly steadily. On May 16 a widespread exodus of aliens from this country was reported by the Department of Labor. It had been reported a month earlier that aliens were returning to Europe at the rate of a thousand a day. Some of the returning aliens say they go to seek members of their families not heard from since the war began, while others speak of their interest in the estates of relatives killed in the fighting line. Though others still have expressed their desire to return to their countries now freed from German or Austrian domination, also.

Investigation has revealed the significant fact that only a small minority of the total number of voyagers expect to return to this country. An investigation by a steel plant, for example, showed that 91 per cent of those departing expected to remain in Europe.

Dissatisfaction among German sympathizers has been suggested as one cause; the draft and war restrictions as other causes. Among all the explanations there has been no mention of nation-wide prohibition, yet undoubtedly this is sending and will send many European residents back to their native countries. For the European and the dominant American view of this matter are widely at variance. The continental European not only sees no moral objection to beer and wine but regards these as a necessary part of his daily food. The poor of the vine-growing sections practically live on bread and cheap wine, and all classes regularly drink wine (usually mixed with water) at meals. The European residents of this country and most foreign-born citizens as well wish to continue the diet they are accustomed to and no doubt many thousands will remove to countries wherein they will be free to do so.

ADVERTISING AND THE FARMER

The Market for Their Goods Depends On How Well Their Products are Made Known.

The fact that New York farmers should advertise the special products for which the state is peculiarly adapted is indicated by the success attained by producers' associations elsewhere, according to the rural economies workers at the state college of agriculture at Cornell University.

California fruits, raisins and nuts, are very widely distributed on the world's markets by the growers themselves through their cooperative associations. Their success is declared has been due in part to the standard nature of the products, in part to well-placed advertising.

How California Does It.
For instance, the California Fruit Growers Exchange has an item in its 1918 budget of $400,000 for advertising alone, or about one-sixth of one cent for each dozen oranges sold. And as a result everyone is learning to eat a named brand of oranges.

The California Walnut Growers Association spent in February and March, 1918, $89,000 in advertising. The California Almond Growers have an annual advertising fund of one-fourth cent a pound on their products.

$375,000 for Advertising Raisins.
The California Association Raisin Company last year voted $275,000 as the year's advertising budget, and all the world is learning about California raisins. This advertising has increased the volume of business, and has therefore enabled the company to introduce certain savings in the large-scale purchase of supplies, and in handling, packing, shipping and merchandising. It has helped to standardize the product and to maintain uniformity and excellence of grade.

Peels Off Corns Between Toes

The Great Corn Loosener of the Age. Never Fails. Painless.

A corn mashed, squeezed and crushed, all day long, in between two toes. You can try the desperate "treat 'em rough" way and try to dig it out and fail. Or you can try the sensible, peaceful plan, easy way and use "Gels-It." It's easy for "Gels-It" to remove corns in hard-to-reach places. It's a liquid—a wonderful painless formula—it has never been successfully imitated. It settles on the corn, and dries immediately. Instead of digging out the corn, you peel it out painlessly. There's no sticky plaster that doesn't stay "put," no salve that irritates or rubs off. You reach the corn easily with the little glass rod in the cork of every "Gels-It" bottle. It does not hurt the true flesh. Try it, trot and smile. It's a blessing, never fails "Gels-It," the guaranteed money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. Sold by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

MATCHING BLOUSE AND SUIT

Popular Shades Provided by Manufacturers to Meet Demand for Various Garments.

Since the fashion of matching blouse and suit so perfectly has come in it is now possible to buy the most exquisite and perfectly made waists, matching almost every color known to the dyer's art.

The blouse manufacturers quickly have recognized the possibilities in the waist of two colors and have not hesitated to combine delightfully two or even more of the so-called popular shades. For instance, a biscuit colored chiffon blouse has the body of this soft shade draped in a fichu effect and outlined with blue beads. Loose sleeves of blue chiffon give the contrasting note and relate the sleeves to the body of the blouse, as they overhang deep cuffs of the biscuit chiffon.

Of course, to the woman who has to consider economy in all her purchases such a blouse is a boon, as it can accompany more than the one skirt, which is the fate of the waist of only one color.

The tailored blouse is ever new, though in reality of the oldest. A new variation in white crepe de chine reveals the front plisse in many small folds and put together with many strips of narrow lace. The sleeves are long and severely tailored, with tight-fitting cuffs buttoning at the wrist. The high straight round collar fastens at one side and is finished with a flat blue tie. The blouse characterizes most of the 1919 models.

The one-color room is apt to be like the one-color person—a monotonous bore. Would the musician go to a piano and striking one note a dozen times, call this a composition? What poet would try to write a sonnet with one word repeated over and over again? Why, then, should the one who wishes to make himself a home, allow himself to be robbed of the harmony and poetry of living by the unskillful interior decorator who arranges a "red room," a "blue room," or a "green room?"

As color is apprehended more quickly than form, it would seem highly important to secure a perfect harmony of tones by curbing the more aggressive colors, red, yellow, and orange, and giving the receding colors, blue and green, a chance to be seen, thus striking a balance. Limitation of one self to one color is stifled and unnatural. No landscape can reflect but one color, for color is an effect of light. The most restful room is the one in which no one color is allowed to force itself too far ahead of the others, but each brings out, by harmonious contrast, the identity and character of the others.

THE PRETTY ROSE CUSHION

Attractive Decoration That Can Be Made by Women Who Are Handy With the Needle.

It was such an attractive cushion that the woman who saw it in a shop window stopped and frankly studied out its plan of construction.

To begin with, it was round and covered with rose-colored taffeta—the real rose shade that reminds one instinctively of Killarney roses or any other rose whose petals shade into a rich warm pink. The joining of the colored silk around the edge of the cushion was concealed beneath a narrow matching of the silk or ribbon to match. But it was the decoration of the upper side that was particularly good to look upon.

A circle of silken taffeta, about six inches or so in diameter, was outlined in little rows made of two shades of silk, in light vine and another a rather deep rose.

THE LITTLE WOODEN CROSSES

The little wooden crosses
Upon a rocky hill,
There where the autumn leaves drift
down,
And all is strangely still,
The old, old church that broods o'er them,
Has seen no fairer sight
In all the years than those who gave
Their youth, and life, and light,
To sleep beneath the wooden cross;
Yet sweet their rest must be,
Who made themselves a sacrifice
That all men might be free.

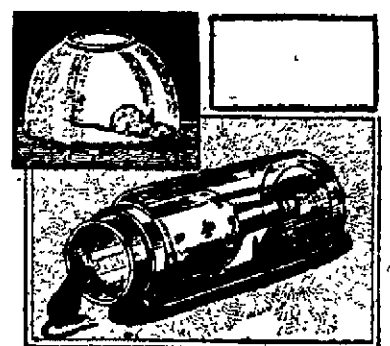

The pain shall be to those who wait
'Cross ocean mist and foam,
Who'll miss their face among the ranks
When soldier boys come home.
But this shall be their recompense,
To lift the cross they bear;
Those were the gift a nation gave,
An offering and a prayer,
And long as mortal tongues shall live,
Until the world grows old,
New beauty and new glory,
Their memory shall enfold.

MOUSE TRAPS EASY TO MAKE

Will Serve Their Purpose in Ridding House of Small Animals Which Become Annoying.

In the small picture a glass tumbler or bowl is inverted and rests on a thimble which contains a piece of bait. The mouse crawls under the rim of the bowl, drawn by the smell of the bait, and in endeavoring to extract it from the thimble is sure to shake off the bowl, in which the mouse then finds itself imprisoned.

In the large picture two glass bottles are used, the larger one having a wide mouth, somewhat larger in diameter than the body of the smaller bottle.

The small bottle should have a neck about three-quarters of an inch in diameter, and its bottom should be cut off by means of a hot iron wire stretched around it, or by some other method. It is fitted into the larger bottle with a strip of felt or other packing to fill the space between it and the mouth of the larger bottle. Its neck should extend to within 1 or 1½ inches of the bottom of the larger bottle, where it is in full view of the mice. They will ultimately find their way to it through the neck of the inner bottle, but will have much greater difficulty in making their way out again if the neck of the bottle is placed the proper distance from the bottom.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

WILL KEEP PRINCE'S BURROW

Underground Refuge of Rupprecht of Bavaria Is to Be Maintained as a Curiosity.

Prince Rupprecht's waldhaus in the Argentine is to be kept as a national curiosity. It is said to be "probably the most elaborate dugout that was ever built. Dug into the hillside, concealed and camouflaged so elaborately that from a few yards off one does not perceive it, it consists of four or five good-sized rooms of which those nearest the hillside have iron shutters. The rooms are paneled and painted, and there is also a swimming bath of about 90 feet in length and 60 in width. It is outfitted with electric lights and hot and cold water. A passage leading from the front of the dugout takes one down 60 feet and into perfect safety. This passage is no longer passable, as water has filled it up. During the war pumps were kept going constantly to keep it dry. Just outside and for less stormy periods, is a German biergarten, with tables and chairs and flower beds.

An Argument.
"Did you speak to your brother about cutting down a little on his potatoes?"
"Yes."
"He might adopt a happy medium."
"I suggested that. But he says there is no happy medium in getting tanked."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Too Many Bones.
Bill—Your dog is fond of bones. I suppose?
Gill—Sure thing.
"The more bones he gets the happier he is, I suppose?"
"Well, I really can't say that, for he does balk at some kind of fish."

Absent-Minded.
A lady, observing that a stranger in her pew had no hymnbook, politely offered him one.
"Thanks," said the gentleman, "but I never use a libretto."—Boston Transcript.

Fowell—No, and the worst of it is that most of them aren't even sick.

Too Long a Reach.
"Blighius is always talking about making something of his life work."
"Yes. And while he's talking he's usually neglecting the day's work."

His Version.
Boss—The love of money is the root of all evil.
Reb—Nonsense! Comparatively few people marry for money.

Don't Meet Them Often.
"Is it strange the husband's fault?" asks a magazine advertisement. "Well, of course, there are some things which husbands never had anything to do with. But they are rare—Kissin' Cuz' the."

Uncle Eben.
"The man dat's makin' life a little happier for some one else," said Uncle Eben. "Is dat a heap mo' dan de folks dat measures success by wearin' de clothes and actin' bossy."

BOLSHEVISM MADE IN GERMANY

Dr. Hillis Would Repress "Red"
Agitators Rounding In U. S.—
Twelve Hundred Heard Noted
Preacher's Lecture With War Pictures.

"What we need in America is more hard work and less agitation." This statement made by Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, pastor of the famous Plymouth Church of Brooklyn, Thursday night in the high school auditorium, was the sum and substance of his attack on Bolshevism. Fully 1,200 people crowded their way into the spacious auditorium to hear the noted preacher-actor. There were but few seats vacant. The speaker was brought to this city by the churches, the prime mover being Rev. P. C. Weyant, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church who had recently heard Dr. Hillis and was very much impressed with his message. Dr. Hillis was well acquainted with his subject. He had spent considerable time visiting devastated France, and ravaged Russian and also worked among Russian refugees. Aside from this, he is well acquainted with conditions in this country and the movements of the Bolsheviks and I. W. W.'s here.

"This is the darkest week since the firing on Fort Sumter," said he in opening his address. "The whole world is skeptical about Germany's signing the peace treaty. In New York city there are forty-six foreign language newspapers with a circulation of 600,000. We read of riots in Seattle and Butte; of strikes in Pennsylvania and New England and we hear of Bolshevik and I. W. W. speakers going up and down the country uttering these words, 'Throw down your spade, buy a gun and make yourself rich before dark.' Never have such appeals been made for lawlessness and disorder."

Dr. Hillis said that the people of the United States do not realize what these sparks will do, what kind of an epidemic will result from the spread of these Bolshevik germs. He pointed to the fact that of 105 rioters arrested in Seattle and sent to Ellis Island from where most people thought they would be deported, 100 were released and permitted to go out working, sowing their seeds of peril. The nation, said he, permits every form of traitor to go wandering about playing with matches in this great powder factory.

In commenting upon the wealth and advantages of the United States, the speaker said that the people of the United States are receiving four-sixteenths of the world income last year, where according to their share they should be receiving but one-sixteenth. Where very many have cheese with bread twice a week in foreign countries, many in United States have meat with their bread twice a day. In comparing the United States with Russia, Dr. Hillis likened this land to a vineyard as against a Russian desert. He asked why we should allow the left hand of the Bolsheviks to take our money and other valuable resources and at the same time permit the right hand to throw bombs and shells to blow us up. The average farmer in the west, he remarked, is worth $25,000. The average farm is worth $12,500, from which a yearly income of $2,500 is enjoyed.

The Milk Pan.
"The politicians have got this country slopping as bad as a milk pan. The Rocky mountains and Alleghenys form the sides of the pan. They slopped Taft back to New Haven and Cannon back to Illinois. And then they slopped Wilson into the White House. What we need here is more hard work and less agitation. If we live on two-fifths of our income we can save $20,000,000,000 to pay for this war. We are the one land under the blue sky for farming purposes. We have three-quarters of the fresh water of the globe in our Great Lakes, and 65 per cent of the cotton, more coal oil and copper than any other country. We can feed a thousand million men."

"Foolish people talk of revolution. They say Lincoln freed the black slaves. Trotsky and Lenin will free the white slaves of the United States. They preach everlasting lies, humbug and hypocrisy. God takes care of fools, idiots, drunkards and the United States. The time has come to open our eyes and take care of ourselves."

To Bolsheviks and others who preach against this government, Dr. Hillis said he would tell them to pack their bags and start for Russia and stay there. "I would tell them, Yonder is the door and close it when you go out."

Dr. Hillis laid the origin of Bolshevism at the door of Germany. Although Germany is now blaming Russia, yet the speaker pointed out that two years ago the Germans boasted that they had invented Bolshevism. He spoke at length on the relations of Trotsky and the Germans. He said that England and France were aware of Trotsky's purpose in coming to Russia. They knew he was going there at the direction of German officials and to aid Germany. These countries issued orders to stop him from passing through Russia. However, Trotsky succeeded in reaching his destination. Dr. Hillis said that this statement was given out that Trotsky, not knowing who Trotsky was, asked the English and French to allow him to pass. United States secret service men, said the speaker, claimed they knew nothing of Trotsky. "But," added the speaker, "the government officials cannot say that. It was their business to know."

Scrubmen Head Surgeon.
To illustrate what Bolshevism really means, Dr. Hillis related the story of a meeting of Bolsheviks near a hospital in Russia. A general was taken to find the man among them who was paid the lowest wage, and when he was found he was made head surgeon of the nearby hospital. The regular head surgeon and his entire staff was driven out. The scrubman-head surgeon's conception of performing operations on the wounded was to tie them down in their beds, strap their legs down and sever the limb with a saw and axe. Wounded men unable to withstand such barbarous treatment often crawled away.

Dr. Hillis has his own ideas about punishing the Kaiser. Facts he remarked, show that the former emperor is responsible for at least 1,000 murders. Dr. Hillis would hang him for the first murder and, throw the other 999 in for good measure. The speaker remarked that he could not see why Holland gave entertainment to the Kaiser. "It is like a maggot crawling around in a Dutch cheese," said he.

To condense his address and still bring out the salient points, Dr. Hillis delivered the final portion of his message with the aid of stereopticon views. He flashed pictures of murdered and disfigured men, women and children, devastated cities and villages. He showed Edith Cavell, Foch, Pershing and other Allied leaders.

Dr. Hillis held his audience in rapt attention throughout his entire address. Often he was interrupted with applause and as he made remarks that were coincident with the thoughts of his auditors one heard a "that's right" or "yes" or other words of approval.

Owing to the fact that the speaker had missed connections at Highland and was late in arriving here, several songs were sung under the direction of Harry P. Dodge before Dr. Hillis arrived. Invocation was offered by Rev. Frank B. Seeley, pastor of the Fair St. Reformed Church. Dr. Hillis was presented by Rev. Weyant. The meeting closed with the singing of America.

SAMSONVILLE.

Samsonville, May 22.—Elder Ransom W. Sanford of Dunraven, Del. county returned home on Tuesday after spending a week with friends here.

Mrs. R. S. Bardin and Mrs. J. H. Bevier visited Mrs. Jennie Cornish on Monday at Tongore.

Miss Mabel Van Etten and Miss Della Barringer have been spending a few days in Kingston.

R. W. Sanford spent Sunday night at Freeman Every's.

Mitchell Every and Louis Barringer attended the meeting at the church on Tuesday evening.

Several men from here are working for A. Haver at Ashokan, building a garage.

George Van Kleeck and family spent Sunday at Mrs. DuBois's at Kramville.

The fire in the woods from a burning brush heap was soon extinguished without doing any damage.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barringer visited with Elder Sanford at Freeman Every's on Sunday evening.

Mrs. Bardin returned to her home at Acorn Hill on Monday.

To Keep Young.
The great enemy of youthfulness is the drying-up process, and this is why we should not only keep as much as possible with the young, but should enter into their joys, their plays, with zest and enthusiasm. We should romp and play with them, interest ourselves in the things that delight them, instead of pushing children away from us and restraining them all the time, regarding them as a nuisance and a bore. Children were given us to keep us youthful, to keep our sympathies fresh.

Sympathy.

Sympathy can people our life with a crowd. The fisherman on the ocean alone at night is not alone when he remembers the earnest longings which are arising up to heaven at home for his safety; the traveler is not alone when the faces which will greet him on his arrival seem to beam upon him as he trudges on; the solitary student is not alone when he feels that human hearts will respond to the truths which he is preparing to address to them.—F. PRISMA "HIKE" AND "DOG ROAST"

Under the careful and able supervision of their president, Miss Elsie Phillips, and the firm, but gentle guidance of the chaperones, the Misses "Ivy", Lounsbury and "Pete" Smith, a number of Prisma girls enjoyed a memorable hike and dog-roast on Monday afternoon. They left at the close of High School and journeyed "pede firma" to that part of the country known as "Devil's Lake." This calls back the old saying, "What's in a name?" Contrary to the impression given by this name, the lake is a most beautiful one, situated in a truly picturesque part of the country.

The greatest part of the time was spent in roasting and "eating" "hot dogs," served with rolls. Some very fine spring water was obtained from a nearby spring and ended the feast in the proper manner.

After the roast, the hikers explored the country nearby the lake. They collected many specimens of plant and animal life. Under the direction of the botanist, Miss Ruth Scott. After eating so many "dogs" and other delicious things, somehow or other, Misses Anne Hurley and Zella Neher caught the funny feeling in the atmosphere caused by the name of the lake. Soon they were doing all sorts of funny stunts to amuse their fellow hikers. They climbed trees and fences and went through many other performances, calling forth much skill on their part. Miss Hurley completed her program by stripping a dog-wood tree of its beautiful blossoms which the girls brought back with them.

Early in the evening, the girls left the scene of the afternoon's feast and fun. With joy in their hearts, songs on their lips and probably a few blisters on their feet, they turned their footsteps homeward where the school books awaited them.

Much credit for the afternoon's enjoyment is due to the leniency of the chaperones and the energy put forth by the various committees in charge. The refreshment committee consisted of the Misses Zella Neher, Myrtle Van Williams and Charlotte Phillips; committee on arrangements, the Misses Eleanor Kerr, Kathryn McDermott, Katharine Barry and Anna Gallagher.

Among the members of the "Prisma," who attended were: Elsie Phillips, Anne Hurley, Margaret Meeker, Eleanor Kerr, Marjorie Shiley, Mildred Garrison, Eva Hiller, Myrtle Van Williams, Katharine Murphy, Zella Neher, Charlotte Phillips, Kathleen Bongartz, Anna Gallagher, Katharine Barry, Gladys Crow, Martha Dickson, Mary Rasche, Kathryn McDermott and Bessie Costello.

RED CROSS HOME SERVICE

National Conference of Social Work at Atlantic City June 1—Discuss Means of Aiding Those of Soldiers and Sailors' Families Who Need It.

Word has been received at the Home Service Section of the Red Cross in this city, relative to the National Conference of Social Work, to be held at Atlantic City, New Jersey, June 1-8. Several thousand workers from all parts of the United States and Canada as well as overseas will be present. A large number of Home Service workers will also be there. The preliminary program comprises a discussion of widely varied character, including child welfare, family life, the problem of the foreign born, mental hygiene, the prohibition question and various forms of entertainment for those in attendance. Much of the discussion will relate to continued aid for the families of soldiers and sailors.

Furthermore many Home Service sections throughout the country, are planning to continue in operation after war emergency needs have been met. It is to be hoped that there will be some members of the Ulster County Red Cross who will be able to attend this remarkable conference, one of the meritorious fruits for the healing of the nations, others as well as our own, which has grown and ripened out of the blood-soaked soil of the most hideous war of all history.

Any one interested in this remarkable program of wide scope as to present day reconstruction social problems, and who could attend the conference is asked to promptly communicate with the Ulster County Home Service Section of the Ulster County Red Cross, telephone, number, 193.

"DIRECT BITE TEETH"

After years of experimenting our laboratories have discovered a direct bite set of artificial teeth. These plates improve the shape of taste and insure perfect enunciation and articulation. The teeth absolutely cannot be discerned from natural teeth. These teeth because of the direct bite have three times the biting strength of ordinary plates. Are you now wearing artificial teeth? If so, we strongly advise you to call and investigate this new plate.

MANY BOOKS ARE STILL NEEDED

Replacement of Reading Matter on Transports Necessary Because of Losses Through Wear—May Be Left at City Library.

Even if the return of all American troops now in France is accomplished by fall, in accordance with recent reports, it is stated by the American Library Association that half a million more books must be added to the library service for the army, navy and marine corps.

The additional books will be needed chiefly for returning troop transports, which can not be supplied from the stock of books which has been sent overseas.

Due to the heavy use they are receiving, books now in France are deteriorating very rapidly. When the fighting stopped the use of books increased enormously and has continued to grow in volume. The men have little to do to occupy a great amount of leisure time. Reading is one of the most substantial and profitable forms of diversion for the men in the present situation in France and the use of books and magazines is being encouraged by officers everywhere as a means of offering competition to the wine shops and counteracting the tendency to gambling.

Wholesome, exciting fiction is the sort which the men read most readily under the conditions now existing overseas. Good books of this kind are passed from man to man and soon go to pieces through sheer handling. It is necessary for the overseas organization of the A. L. A. to make constant replacements of these worn out volumes. As a result, the actual stock of available books in France dwindles steadily and none can be spared to put aboard transports for the homecoming troops.

Every transport is fitted out with a library in the American port where it docks. The demand for books aboard ship has been so great that these libraries are now being increased to the ratio of a book for every man. It is necessary also that the book collection be renewed at the end of each trip, as frequently a large number of volumes disappears in the course of the voyage.

For the transport service wholesome, entertaining fiction is needed. Books left at the public library will be forwarded promptly.

NETTACAHONTS

Nettacahonts, May 22.—The entertainment given on Saturday evening at the school house by the Accord Dramatic Society, was a success, considering the bad weather. All did well in their parts in the play, "A Noble Outcast" and the sum of $35 was taken in. $14 was taken in at the door, which we understand goes toward the parsonage well debt, and the remainder to the Willing Workers. Those who attended the play were pleased with it and the actors were highly applauded.

Ed Osterhout has joined the auto owners in town, having purchased a new car of Charles Anderson of Accord.

Virgil Wood, working for Jesse Osterhout, has been sowing a field with oats this week on the farm of Mrs. F. Zeaman.

Elijah Churchwell is employed by Jesse Osterhout driving team on the state road.

Some Jewish boarders from the city have already arrived in town at the boarding houses of Sam Backroff, Abraham Bedesky and Mrs. Sarah Rubenstein.

Miss Ray Markle spent Sunday and Sunday night with Miss Edna Markle at Accord and enjoyed a pleasant visit.

Mrs. Edgar Van Vleet, Mrs. Fred Hendrickson and daughters, Lulu and Habel, spent a pleasant Monday with Mrs. Joseph Hendrickson.

Mrs. David Deputy of Accord was entertained for supper Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Osterhout.

Oscar Macker and Arthur Wood of Nanamoch spent the week end at their homes in town.

Mrs. Floyd Chrissy had the misfortune to lose her chased gold ring on Saturday evening, either between this place and Rochester Center or in Ellenville. This ring is a keep sake and valued by Mrs. Chrissy and it found by anyone, finder please communicate with Mrs. Chrissy as soon as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob H. Baker enjoyed an automobile ride on Tuesday.

Miss Ruby Rider of Kingston enjoyed a few days' vacation with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Rider attended the play at the school house on Saturday evening.

Those who attended the play, "The School at Mud Hollow," which was given at Kripplush, report its having been fine and a good time had. More would have attended from town who didn't owing to the entertainment given here on that date.

We were glad to see so many Liebhardt people out on Saturday night at the party. Come again folks. We are always glad to have you.

Elmer B. Hendrickson is very busy these days doing interior decorating at one of the summer boarding houses in this place.

Men and teams are working the roads in this vicinity, getting them in somewhat better shape.

Mrs. S. E. Churchwell spent Sunday and Sunday night with Mrs. E. D. Markle.

Some are planning to attend the entertainment at the Whitfield school house on Friday evening and are looking forward to a good time, as is always had at Whitfield.

The Brute.

Proportion—"The wife has gone shopping and left me in charge of the baby, and I'm dead if I know how to keep the buggar quiet." Grissler (after critically regarding the howling juvenile)—"I should think you could easily keep him quiet, both in a vocal and physical way, by smacking him carefully, tying his hands behind his back, holding his feet together, putting his elbows to the front, and then a single stroke will reduce him to him."

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE TOWN

The Stroller Hears that a Howling Success in School Life Don't Always Mean a Continued in Our Next in Business Life.

"See that man who just went out?" asked the busy barber, turning to the customer.

"What about him?" countered the customer, dropping the paper he was reading to the floor.

"I can remember," continued the barber "when he and I went to school together. He certainly was some bright scholar and while he headed the class you could always find me near the foot."

"That was no more than I would expect," interrupted the customer smiling.

"And" continued the barber, not noticing the interruption, "he was always pointed out to the rest of us kids as the bright and shining example for us to follow. Everybody thought that he sure would make his mark in the world."

"He was just in trying to touch me for a dollar," retorted the barber in a tone of disgust.

"That just goes to show that a howling success in school life don't always mean a continued in our next in the business world," remarked the customer.

"You said something," agreed the barber in an emphatic tone.

"But nevertheless," continued the customer "what a young man needs nowadays is a good education."

"I agree with you," replied the barber, "but to my mind they ought to eliminate the teaching of foreign languages in school and devote more time to the three R's."

"There is no question but that English is becoming, or is, the great commercial language of the world," interrupted the customer.

"It sure is," replied the barber, "and I believe the use of good English should be thoroughly taught in the schools, and less time devoted to other languages."

GATES HALF-SOLE TIRES

Cost only 1/2 As Much

MR. MOTORIST:

If you knew you could get 5,000 to 15,000 more miles from the worn tires you have on your car, and—

If you also knew you could obtain complete freedom from punctures, and greatly increase the beauty of your tire equipment, and—

If you also knew you could do this at one-half the cost of new tires—

You would be interested, wouldn't you?

Well, Sir, you can do this by using Gates HALF-SOLE TIRES. This is not guess work. It has been proved by more than 350,000 business men like yourself who have used these practical money-savers during the past two years.

Gates Half-Sole Tires are not retreads or sewed-on treads or other makeshifts. They fit completely over your worn casings, transforming them into the most beautiful, brand-new oversize tire you ever saw.

They are guaranteed the same as the tires now on your car, only more—they are guaranteed puncture-proof. And back of the guarantee is the manufacturer, The Gates Rubber Company, Denver's greatest industry.

Most important of all, Gates Half-Sole Tires COST ONLY ONE HALF AS MUCH AS OTHER TIRES.

You owe it to yourself not to throw away another worn tire or purchase another one until you have investigated.

Come in and let us show you this wonderful proposition which is revolutionizing the tire business.

We are open for business and will gladly show you our plant. See how it is done.

TEACHERS SALARY BILL EXPLANATION

To Be Secured at Albany by Supt. Michael and President Flemming Tuesday—Provides $720 Elementary and $840 High School Minimum—City's Quota From State to Be Doubled.

In commenting today on the teachers' salary bill, recently signed by Governor Alfred J. Smith, Supt. Myron J. Michael of the city schools, said that no exact information could be given as to the additional cost to the city under the new bill, at the present time. There are several sections of the bill, the exact interpretation of which the members of the Kingston board of education are still a bit hazy, especially that part dealing with increments. Next Tuesday Supt. Michael and President Harry H. Flemming will attend a conference of school authorities of the eastern section of the state, in Albany. At that time the bill will be explained by officials of the state department of education. The additional cost to the city, however, will not be as large as some imagine, due to the fact that the state appropriation for teachers' salaries will be doubled under the new law.

This is the first time that the state has attempted to fix the salaries of teachers in the public schools. Heretofore the matter of salaries was left wholly to local boards of education. Under the new bill elementary teachers in third class cities will receive a minimum salary of $720 per year with no less than eight annual increments for satisfactory work. High school teachers will receive a minimum of $840 for the first year with no less than eight annual increments.

The act does not fix the salaries of the superintendent of schools, principals and supervisors. Their salaries are fixed by the several boards of education. The act also provides that no teacher's salary shall be reduced. For example, if a teacher is now receiving more than the state schedule calls for, he or she will continue to receive that salary. As to the increments under such circumstances the board of education is not clear as yet.

The act further provides that "The trustees or boards of education in each school district, except city school districts, shall increase the salary of each teacher employed in such district at least $100 in advance of the salary paid the teacher employed at the time of the passage of this act. Such increased salary shall become effective for the school year beginning August 1, 1919 and continue annually thereafter." This section of the act applies to rural schools. The state appropriates $100 toward the increase in salary.

A sum of $5,300,000 or so, much thereof as is necessary is appropriated by the state for carrying out the provisions of the new act. This sum is to be distributed among the school districts and city school systems for teachers' quotas. The act further provides that in addition to quotas heretofore in force, a sum of $100 be appropriated for the payment of each teacher's salary in any given school district or city school system. This means that the board of education of the city of Kingston will receive from the state $200 toward the payment of the salary of each teacher in its employ.

Under these provisions, the board of education of this city will receive $23,600 from the state, a sum just doubled that received heretofore.

VAN AKEN LIKES U. S. ARMY LIFE

Rufus Van Aken, after 1 1/2 years' service in the army, and returning from overseas, has re-enlisted. What he thinks of the army life is told in his letter to Postmaster DeWitt. He is a brother of E. Otis Van Aken. More are needed in the regular army at once:

Hon. Wm. C. DeWitt:
Dear Sir—Just a few lines to let you know I landed a good job and thank you for your kindness for helping me and what you did. I landed a first class cook in the hospital. Some place, take it from me. The finest lot of fellows you would want to meet. They are going to fix my teeth for me. They have four out and they are going to put them all in again. Had to wait a while from Washington on my teeth, but the word came "fix them by all means," as my record was O. K. for I saw the letter. Had a fine time in Poughkeepsie. Had no time to even write my sister. From what I heard they had asked you if you knew anything about me. Never mind am back on the job and off to the work stuff. I have a good place to work. I am on from 11 o'clock today until 11 tomorrow and then 24 hours off. Just got through for today. Had to make pot pie for supper and rhubarb and apple pie for dinner tomorrow. I am in the Medical Department now and was made first class cook. I will be in to see you the first time I come home. Remember me to all my friends, that is if I have any. Well I guess I have you all covered for this time so I will ring off. With best wishes to all, good night. As ever your friend,
COOK RUFUS C. VAN AKEN

Garrulous Husband.

"Don't expect a wife always to be the listener," advises Winifred Black. Certainly not. Wives have to sleep occasionally. The fact is, the law ought to punish those garrulous husbands who talk their wives to death.

FEATURES OF K. OF C. MINSTREL

No doubt the public by now are aware of the fact that the K. of C. minstrels will be given at St. Mary's Hall on Monday evening, May 26th, and at St. Joseph's Hall on Tuesday evening, May 27th, but we are absolutely sure that they are in the dark as to some of the main features, one of which will be the rendition of selected songs by "Tommy" Dolan, one of our boys, who has just arrived from overseas. "Tommy" is no stranger to a Kingston audience and as his selections will be the latest from the publisher's pen, it will be worth the price of admission to hear him. He is the possessor of a rare tenor voice that hath charms. It is an unusual occurrence that a minstrel troupe has for an interpreter a more stately looking and clear-voiced young man than James Hyland. He has the co-operation of the end men, which is the most essential matter for the success of a performance. You have all heard about the end men and the pretty girls in the olio, but not a word has been said until now of the chorus. As a casual observer at Thursday evening's rehearsal remarked, "I doubt if I ever saw a more presentable looking chorus gathering or any body of men that possessed finer voices. They have an art of blending their voices that would appeal to any audience." And he was right. They are a body of men that have the enthusiasm that will "carry away" the audience. And the cho songs are the latest and best adapted for such fine talent. Messrs. Flinn, Rafferty and Erno, the directors, are well pleased with the rehearsals and as a tip they advise the public to arrive early at the halls both evenings in order to secure seats. Miss Mary Heidecamp is the efficient pianist and this announcement will no doubt put the audience at ease as to the accompaniment of the singers. "Curt" Shuter's orchestra will furnish music on both evenings for dancing.

The Stormy Petrel.

The birds known to sailors as Mother Carey's chickens, whose appearance is supposed to foretell a storm, are otherwise known by the term stormy petrel (Phaethon pelagicus). The bird seems to run in a remarkable manner along the surface of the sea, where it picks up its food. The petrel is a small bird of dusky plumage, nocturnal in habit, most abundant in the southern hemisphere. The name Mother Carey is supposed to be a corruption of the "Mother Carr"—dear mother—of Levantine sailors.

Life's Turning Point.

When you get into a tight place, and everything goes against you, till it seems as if you couldn't hold on a minute longer, never give up then, for that is just the place and time the tide will turn. — Harriet Beecher Stowe.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, May 23.—The May meeting of the local W. C. T. U. was held at Hunt Memorial Building, Wednesday afternoon, May 21st, and despite the rain there was a large attendance of members and several guests. A very interesting program was arranged by the vice-president, Mrs. Addison Stratton, who was given the subject was "A Great Mother," Mrs. Lillian M. N. Stevens, for sixteen years president of the National W. C. T. U. Mrs. Stratton presided. The opening song, "Victory Bells," was rendered and this was followed by a biographical sketch of Mrs. Stevens, who was born March 1, 1844, and died April 6, 1914, read by Mrs. Stratton; Scripture readings, favorite passages of the Bible, Mrs. Stevens, Psalm 121, Matthew 25: 35-40 read by Mrs. Mamie Stevens and Mrs. Albert Sheppard; a poem found between the leaves of her Bible, "A Citizen of the Universe," read by Mrs. E. A. Smiley. "The Message of the Lily," dedicated to Mrs. Stevens, very effectively read by Mrs. George A. Mericle. Several excellent papers followed: The Women Who Won Prohibition, Mrs. V. T. Wright; How Straight She Stood, Mrs. J. E. Ennis; Great Souls Never Die, Mrs. Andrews; Lady Holder's Farewell Message, Mrs. Mahlon Smith; Proclamation for National Constitutional Prohibition, issued September 10, 1911, by Mrs. Stevens, and Mrs. Stevens' last words written for the public, March 29, 1914 and given to Anna A. Gordon to be read at the hearings at Washington, D. C., read by Mrs. Stratton, who also gave a brief mention of the women who have been great mothers of the W. C. T. U. nation, state, county and local union. A prohibition Victory. National Constitutional Prohibition, passed House of Representatives Dec 17, 1917, 282 to 128, passed Senate December 18 by 47 to 8. The 18th Amendment to Constitution. The beautiful poem, "Prohibition Pen," was very well rendered in closing by Mrs. Mericle. The entire program so well arranged and given was heartily received. The announcement followed that Miss Lillian M. Phelps, state lecturer, who was in Ulster county speaking for the great "Jubilee," would speak in Hunt Memorial Hall, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. The village people are invited to attend this meeting. No delegates were sent the Institute of Ulster County W. C. T. U., which was held at Milton on Thursday, May 22.

Gnat Exudes Musk. To the list of sources of musk must be added a kind of gnat, which is so common in the Australian bush at times as to fill the air with a musky odor.

New York, May 23—A poll taken by the New York World and published to-day, shows a large percentage of congressmen opposed to committing themselves on the repeal of war-time prohibition, as recommended by the president, but a majority of nearly two to one against repeal by those who stated their views. The results are:

QUICK WORK ON SOLDIERS BILL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, May 23.—The senate this afternoon passed an appropriation of $45,000,000 for the payment of allotments by the bureau of war risk insurance and for pensions for civil war veterans, in three minutes. Senator Lodge, Republican leader, asked that the bill be passed without going to committee, in order that dependents of soldiers and sailors might receive their allotments.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

Miss Elizabeth Agnes Post, 35 years old, died on Thursday at her home, 2 Rose street, Poughkeepsie. Miss Post was a former Kingston resident, removing to Poughkeepsie six years ago. During that length of time, she has been a bookkeeper in the offices at Vassar College. Her death was sudden, as she had been ill but three days, but was really due to an attack of influenza which she suffered about six weeks ago. She had apparently recovered from the influenza infection and had returned to work. Three days ago she contracted a bad cold, which developed into double pneumonia and then her heart failed. Miss Post was a member of St. Mary's Church. Her only surviving relative is a brother, who resides in Newark, N. J.

The funeral of Cornelius Harvey took place from his late residence in Quarryville on Wednesday morning at 9:45 o'clock and from St. Patrick's Church at 10:00 o'clock, where a High Mass of Requiem was celebrated for the repose of his soul by the pastor, the Rev. Walter M. Henry, who delivered a very touching eulogy on the Christian character of the deceased. The music of the mass was in charge of St. Mary's choir of Saugerties, under the direction of Miss Swart. At the close of the services, Miss Sinnott very beautifully rendered "Calvary". The interment took place in St. Mary's cemetery, Saugerties, the bearers being members of St. Patrick's Holy Name society of which the deceased had been for many years president. The services at the grave were conducted by Father Henry. The floral tributes were many and beautiful attesting to the high esteem in which the deceased was held by his neighbors and friends.

The death of Mrs. Phoebe Maria Castle, widow of Philip A. Castle, removes from the town of Wawarsing one of its oldest citizens. Mrs. Castle died at her home at Wawarsing on Sunday, May 18th, and the funeral was held from her late home on Wednesday afternoon. Services were conducted by the Rev. Walter S. Maines of the Ellenville Reformed Church and interment was made in the family plot in the Pantecost cemetery. Mrs. Castle was born in Sullivan county, October, 1825, and had attained the great age of 94 years. A daughter of Captain Eli Perry and Sarah Purdy, among early settlers of Sullivan, where they came from Connecticut to Thompsonville, where Mr. Perry engaged in school teaching. Mrs. Castle was married at an early age in 1843, and after residing for twenty-two years at Mount-ambo, Mr. and Mrs. Castle moved to Wawarsing just at the close of the Civil War. Mr. Castle continued his early vocation as tanner. He purchased the tannery property at that time in full operation along the VerNooykill, later selling the business to several men interested in tanneries. Mr. Castle for years, until his death in 1888, conducted a grist and saw mill, together with his farm on property adjoining tannery. Mrs. Castle was a woman of robust health within a few months of her death and belonged to that fine type of old school, who developed minds as strong and alert as their lives were true and simple. Active always in the affairs of her own household she was nevertheless keenly interested in the busy world about her and was never too absorbed to neglect an opportunity to be of practical assistance to a neighbor who might need a helping hand.

Some one truly remarked, Wawarsing will hardly be the same without Mrs. Castle. The benediction of such a life is the rich inheritance of all who have known of its rugged strength and sterling worth. Mrs. Castle is survived by an only daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Terwilliger, who shared the family home, originally built by Mr. and Mrs. Castle about 1870. There are also surviving a nephew, Mott Perry, of Monkaup Valley and a niece, Miss Stella Perry, of Miamisburgh, Ohio.

LAKE KATRINE.

Private Warren H. Short of Schenectady just returned from overseas, spent Monday and Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. James Gaddis.

The Sunday evening services are steadily improving in attendance. The Rev. Steketee gave a most interesting sermon on the Christian Endeavor Topic, "The School of Life." A delegation from the Local Union were present. Augustus Raschke spoke on the text, "Despise Not the Day of Small Things," and a quartet, Edgar Conklin, Frank Elmendorf, Mr. Hudler and Mr. Raschke, sang, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say," and "Why Do You Wait Dear Brother?" and a solo by Mr. Hudler, "Abide in Me," was well rendered.

Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Gaddis entertained quite a distinguished company of people Sunday, when Mayor Canfield and children, Miss Frances Plannigan, Dr. O. D. B. Inalls and family, Clark Gaddis of Kingston, Miss Maud Gaddis of Far Rockaway and Irving Barth of Washington, D. C. called.

The Grange had the pleasure of meeting deputy's company at their meeting Monday evening and their short address was thoroughly enjoyed by those present, and those not attending certainly missed this as well as the lecturer's program, which consisted of music and two or three articles of interest to farmers, and some amusing answers to the questions. Or what does good housekeeping consist and What fool thing I did. Ice cream and cake were served.

Friendship That Lasts.

Friendship is apt to creep away into some corner of the temple on whose shrine love has descended. This mild affection is but a twinkling taper that will burn steadily on, perhaps unseen amid the dazzling glory of love's supernatural lamp, to be found shining benignantly when the lamp is shattered.

OPERA HOUSE SATURDAY MATINEE ONLY ADMISSION - 15c

SEE--- TOM MIX, in "HELL ROARIN' REFORM"

You Cannot Buy stock of the New England Fuel Oil Company today except at a tremendous premium. Eight years ago, however, it could be purchased around the par value price of $10 per share. It sells now at about $185 per share. If you had invested $1,000 in the New England Fuel Oil Company in 1911 you would now be worth over $185,000 as a result of market appreciation, stock dividends declared, etc. In 1911, an investment of this character was attended by a certain amount of risk, as the properties leased were not proven. Today the Company enjoys a tremendous production from a small number of wells in the famous Mexican-Panuco fields. Three wells are yielding 25,000 barrels daily.

You Can Buy stock of the Mexican-Panuco Oil Company, however, very near its par value of $10 per share because it is in a position to-day similar to that of the New England Fuel Oil Company eight years ago. The outlook for Mexican-Panuco, now, is better than was the outlook for New England Fuel then because the acreage is not only proven but MEXICAN-PANUCO ALREADY HAS A PRODUCTION OF 10,000 BARRELS OF OIL A DAY. Some of its properties practically adjoin those of the New England Fuel Oil Company, while others are actually adjacent to acreage of the Standard Oil of N. J. and the Gulf Refining Co., where individual wells are flowing 50,000 and 10,000 barrels daily. Mexican-Panuco Oil Co. is controlled by powerful financial interests who have furnished eloquent testimony of their confidence in the company by placing their large holdings of stock in escrow for one year. Read and digest these facts. Investigate them carefully, if you wish. Then BUY MEXICAN-PANUCO AT THE MARKET and take advantage of a most unusual opportunity to share in the large profits to stockholders which are expected.

MEXICAN-PANUCO OIL COMPANY. Capitalization, Authorized and Issued: $3,000,000—300,000 Shares, Par Value $10. Transfer Agent: Guaranty Trust Co. Registrar: N. Y. Trust Co. Officers and Directors: Howard Willets, Pres.; J. Macy Willets; H. C. Curran, Vice-Pres.; Addison S. Pratt; W. B. Lewis, Sec'y & Treas.; A. E. Fiskin.

Traded on New York Curb. Circular and map on request. Proceeds of sale of stock to be devoted to: (1) drilling three additional wells on leases now producing; (2) building steel storage and flow tanks and loading racks on the Panuco River; (3) laying pipe lines to immediately market production, contracts for same having been let.

AMERICA'S IMMORTALS

JOSEPH W. SMITH.

First Lieutenant, 166th Infantry.

Lieutenant Smith was decorated for conspicuous gallantry in action near St. Rausant, France, September 12, 1918. Finding that his platoon would be under heavy fire from six enemy machine guns in crossing the Rupt de Mad, Lieutenant Smith plunged into the stream ahead of his men, and crossing to the opposite bank, exposed himself to fire from the guns in order to ascertain their exact location. He then led his men in a flank attack on the enemy position, capturing the guns and nineteen Germans, this officer himself carrying a rifle and using it with telling effect. Lieutenant Smith's quick judgment and disregard for personal safety enabled the entire line to advance without being separated from its baggage. His mother, Mrs. Rita L. Smith, lives in Austin, Tex.

Thirsty Trees.

It has been demonstrated that, of nearly all Australian trees, the eucalyptus absorbs the greatest amount of water. Two seedlings—a huzzum and a plum—were placed with their roots in water, and the height of the water carefully marked. The plants were kept in a warm stove place and examined at the end of 24 hours, when it was found that the eucalyptus had disposed of four times the quantity of water that the plum had been able to take up. Seeing that eucalyptus increases in height with great rapidity, the amount of moisture taken up increases on a progressive scale. This is what brings about a settlement with the marbled moustique in pools of water. The eucalyptus grows all moisture places, and the breeding spots of the mosquitoes are gone, and in time the eucalyptus catch all together.

Ignorance is Bliss.

One day a farmer went to the nearest market town to buy a bushel of seed wheat. As the salesman was away, his wife was sewing, and taking up the peck measure, she filled it twice, poured the contents into a bag, and began to tie it up. "But, Mrs. Lawton," said the farmer, "it takes four pecks to make a bushel." "Oh, does it?" replied the woman, smiling the bag. "Well, you see, I never had any experience in measuring grain before I was married—I was a school-teacher!"—Exchange.

Facts.

Do not think of your family; just live of others' families in every person who comes near you. Look for what is good and strong; don't look that which is bad and weak. Don't let that which is bad and weak in you, and as you can, try to get rid of it, and your family will drop off like dead leaves, when their time comes.—Ruskin.

Fire-Eater's Trick.

The fire king, as he is called in shows and circuses, is known as a "living coal jet." He first shows his mouth empty, then takes a lighted match and holds it about six inches from his mouth. He then blows upon the flame, and his breath takes fire. The explanation of this puzzling performance is simple. The performer secretes about his person a small sponge saturated with kerosene, which he surreptitiously introduces into his mouth. When he blows upon the match, his breath takes fire. The performer must close his lips immediately after exhaling.

Drake Statue in German Town.

Offenburg, in Germany, near the edge of the Black forest, possesses a statue of Sir Francis Drake. Not, however, as the circumnavigator of the globe, but as the smasher of the Spanish armada, not as the hero who went on playing bowls when the enemy was in sight, or as the typical Englishman, knickered on board his ship by Queen Elizabeth. To Offenburg Drake is the "discoverer of the potato." Some people think Raleigh discovered Germany's staple food; but Offenburg says Drake. The city of Drake seems to flourish a map of South America with one hand, and in the other he holds a potato plant.

Shiloh Battlefield.

The first great battle of the Civil war was fought on a wooded plateau covering about 1,000 acres on the west bank of the beautiful Tennessee river. It was referred to as the battle of Pittsburg Landing by the federal commanders, because that is where they landed their troops to bring on the battle which opened the gateway to the South. On the other hand it was called the battle of Shiloh by the Confederate commanders, as the battle raged around Shiloh Methodist church, a log structure which stood about the middle of the battlefield. The name Shiloh, since has been accepted by both armies.
